

NOTRE DAME EVENING AT THE FREDERICK KEYS---August 28, 2009

We are planning a little baseball entertainment designed for the whole family and Alumni of all ages. The ND Club of Washington will join with the Maryland Club and the Gettysburg Clubs for some minor league baseball at the Frederick Keys on Friday August 28th. Those of you not familiar with minor league baseball should know that it is one of the best entertainment values around. There will be only four or five thousand people there and it is a fun way to watch quality baseball at a reasonable price.

Since we have absolutely no idea of the number of people who will be interested, this is going to be a very simple affair. The plan is to gather outside the stadium before the 7PM game. Those of us there at 6:30 will buy our general admission tickets and go in as a group and find a section of seats where we can all be together. Those who arrive later should be able to find us since some of us will wear our ND gear. General admission for the Frederick Keys games is $8.00--$5.00 for children and seniors. In order to get some idea of the interest it would be helpful if you could indicate your intentions to go to Jim Conrad at james.conrad@verizon.net (or call on (443) 370-9740).

There is an added feature to this game. Members of the Gettysburg Club will be manning the "Bat for the Cure" table. This is a national program for prostate cancer awareness that the ND Alumni throughout the country support. ND Alumni are staffing these tables at 50 different minor league stadiums. Randy Noel is chairing this project and currently has enough members to staff the table. However, if you want to attend the game Jim Conrad and John Steinour will be buying tickets with the ND people as described above. We would love to have you come out and support Notre Dame's group at the game.
